

Occupational Health and Safety Policy

7.9 Occupational Health & Safety Policy

Taranto Personnel Pty. Ltd. is committed to protecting the health and safety of all its employees, as well as its contractors, suppliers, customers and visitors who may enter its workplace and recognises its ethical and legal, health and safety responsibility. Our goal is to take all necessary steps to improve workplace safety and reduce incidents and accidents. We strive to achieve a target of zero incidents.

Throughout the delivery of services, Taranto Personnel Pty Ltd. is committed to effectively manage OH&S through:

- comply with all appropriate Occupational Health and Safety Laws.
- encourage and sustaining a workplace attitude that holds wellbeing and health and safety paramount;
- striving to continuously improve our OH&S performance;
- preventing and minimising injury through the assessment of the host employers OH&S management systems and procedures; and identification, assessment and negotiation of controls in relation to the potential hazards of the host employers workplace;
- actively promoting and implementing OH&S procedures;
- obtaining from the host employer accurate information as to the type of work and the knowledge, skills and experience required by the employee to be able to perform the work safely and competently;
- working together with the host employer to provide employee's with induction, safe equipment and work procedures, regular information, instruction, training and supervision to ensure their health and safety;

Actively responding to investigate accidents and incidents; and subsequently implement remedial actions to avoid reoccurrence. Taranto Personnel Pty. Ltd. is committed to maintaining communication and consultation with all interested parties throughout the delivery process to ensure understanding and achievement of agreed expectations.

Tony Taranto, Director
Taranto Personnel Pty Ltd